

MARK ARONOWITZ is a retired State of Connecticut employee. He is currently working as a Temporary Worker Retiree for the Office of Policy and Management on a special project. Mr. Aronowitz retired from the Office of the State Comptroller in April 2014 after 26 years of service, serving as the Director of the Accounts Payable Division from 1997 until 2014. The Accounts Payable Division administers the centralized accounts payable function for the state, enforcing the statutory, regulatory and accounting provisions mandated by state and federal law. In the mid 1990's, as the Assistant Director, he served as the project manager in a successful statewide paperless processing electronic interface of the state's two major accounting systems. Previously, Mr. Aronowitz was an auditor for the State Division of Special Revenue from 1980 to 1988 where he performed financial audits of state licensed pari-mutuel facilities. Mr. Aronowitz has a Bachelor of Science degree in Business Administration from Central Connecticut State University. He resides with his wife and son in Rocky Hill.